

Dear parents,

The birth certificate you have received today is an official document that provides your child with a legal identity. With this document, your child can register for a Ghana Card, get a passport, sign up for national health insurance, and later, as an adult, register to vote.

Please keep this document safe, and present it at school, the health insurance office, or the national identification authority office whenever requested.

By protecting your child's identity today, you are helping your child to become a happy, educated, and prosperous adult tomorrow.

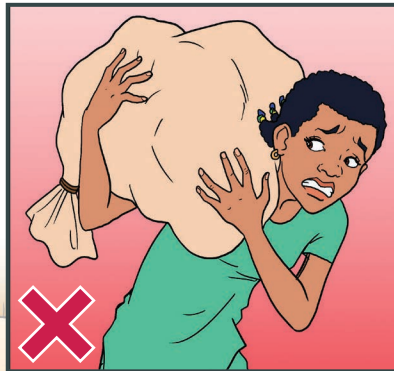

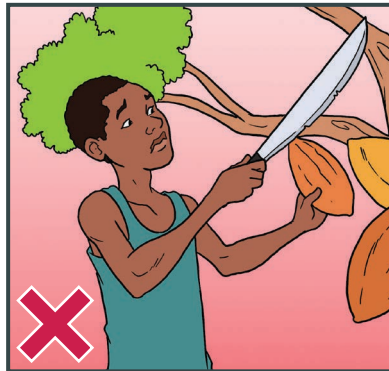

Share this message with those around you: every child with a legal identity means a stronger family and a brighter future for your community.

Together, let's protect your children's future!

About ICI

The International Cocoa Initiative (ICI) fights against child labour and forced labour in the cocoa sector in West Africa. We have been working in Ghana since 2007 to improve the lives of children and adults in cocoa-growing communities.

All of ICI's activities in cocoa-growing communities are free. No financial contribution is required.
